PATIENT FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

JAG Physical Therapy's focus is your overall health and wellness. As we continue to strive to help you meet these standards, it is important to us that you understand the terms "Medically Necessary", "Clinically Appropriate", "Benefit Maximum Met" and how this relates to your treatment.

"Medically Necessary" is defined as treatment or services that are specific to your diagnosis. When treatment is deemed medically necessary, your insurance company will reimburse JAG PT for services rendered according to physical therapy care that has a direct connection to document improved function based on our contractual agreement.

"Clinically Appropriate" or "Benefit Maximum": Insurance companies may deny care despite treatment that continues to manage, reduce or eliminate your pain. This may be "clinically appropriate" for your circumstances but may not be considered "medically necessary" by your insurance carrier. Benefit Maximum is defined as a specific number of physical therapy visits allowed by your insurance policy during a specific time frame. Most treatments reach a point where no further improvement can be expected. This is called the point of maximum therapeutic benefit (MTB). MTB can be reached when complaints either fully resolve, or when pain and/or disability persist - even with ongoing treatment.

"Denials/Appeals": It is a patient's responsibility to initiate an appeal with the insurance provider when services are denied.

JAG Physical Therapy will provide the necessary clinical information upon request.

If your insurance company determines that services are no longer medically necessary, you will be billed $150.00 per visit for services that have been rendered.

I understand it is my responsibility to confirm my coverage with my insurance carrier and that JAG Physical Therapy may verify such coverage as a courtesy to me. JAG PT will not be held responsible or liable for inaccurate information or denials provided by your insurance carrier after services have been rendered.

My signature below acknowledges that I have read and fully understand that:

1. JAG Physical Therapy has discussed medical necessity limitations, clinically appropriate care, and specific number of office visits allowed per my insurance company.
2. I have been informed of my financial responsibility if my insurance company denies all or part of these services as not medically necessary.
3. I fully accept the financial responsibility to pay for denied services at the time my insurance carrier deems my treatment not medically necessary.
4. You are ultimately responsible for all payment obligations arising out of your treatment or care and guarantee payment for these services. You are responsible for deductibles, co-payments, co-insurance amounts or any other patient responsibility indicated by your insurance carrier.

Patients are responsible to inform the front office of their scheduled Independent Medical Exam (IME) with their insurance carrier. You, the patient, along with your physician will receive a determination letter 7-10 days after the exam. The patient is responsible for providing JAG Physical Therapy a copy of the determination.

Treatment performed while awaiting the exam results can be denied if the determination is returned with a negative result. In this event the financial responsibility becomes the patient's, if you choose to receive treatment on the IME scheduled date or the days following before receiving a determination.

If you should have any questions pertaining to your responsibilities as a Workers Compensation or No-Fault patient, please feel free to speak with the Office Manager at your treating facility.
